Eye Examination.

In this day of defective eyesight, no person, young or old, should wear a glass unless fitted by an expert—one thoroughly familiar with anatomy and diseases of the eye, laws of light and science of optics.

In addition he must depend upon no one method of examination—he must be familiar with all, and substantiate one by use of others.

Here you will find employed the best and most scientific methods known to science, and back of all, adequate knowledge of the eye and its needs.

"I Roughed It"

Many of us have to work hard all day long. We cannot care for ourselves as we would. No wonder our blood gets out of order, becomes thin and impure. This produces boils, eruptions, nervousness, indigestion, and great weakness.

We have this photograph and letter from Mr. John Hafner, of Wagga Wagga, New South Wales. Read carefully what he says: "I have roughed it a great deal, mining, working in storms, exposed to the heat, and have often had poor food. My blood frequently becomes impure and I have eruptions, boils, and become generally run down. But Ayer's Sarsaparilla takes hold of me every time, makes my blood pure and builds me right up."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitations "Sarsaparillas." Be sure you get Ayer's.

Take Ayer's Pills with the Sarsaparilla. They aid in purifying the blood; and they cure constipation and biliousness.

GEAR'S JURY DRANK BEER

Enjoyed a Night in Chambers of Court.

NOW FERRIS ASKS ANOTHER HEARING

Jury's Misconduct May be Reason for Murderer Receiving a New Trial.

An evening carousal in Judge Gear's chambers is the allegation made against the jury which found George Ferris guilty of murder in the first degree, by Reynolds and Peters, attorneys for the defendant, yesterday.

Ferris was brought into court yesterday morning for sentence, at which time the motion for a new trial was presented, with the further request for a postponement of sentence until after the motion had been passed upon. The jurors are charged with having used liquor to such an extent as to have influenced their verdict, though the alleged misconduct occurred the day previous to the conclusion of the trial.

Affidavits to rebut this allegation will be filed by the jurors this morning, in which it will be admitted that beer was used with sandwiches partaken of by the jurors, but it is denied that any of them were under the influence of liquor. There is no allegation that Gear was present with the jury at the time of their alleged misconduct, though this matter will probably be gone into this morning if Judge Gear allows the calling of witnesses as has been requested by the defendant. Judge Gear was in his chambers during the early part of the evening, but the affidavits make no reference to him whatever.

In the motion for a new trial it is alleged that the jurors were allowed to separate during the trial and that the jury was guilty of misconduct "tending to prevent a fair and impartial consideration of this case in this, that the said jury so impaneled partook of intoxicating liquors during the trial of said cause."

The affidavits filed by Peters and Reynolds in support of this allegation are almost identical in form. After stating that the jury had been regularly impaneled and given supper at the Grill, it is set out that the jurors were returned to the Judiciary building and given quarters in the old stenographers' room.

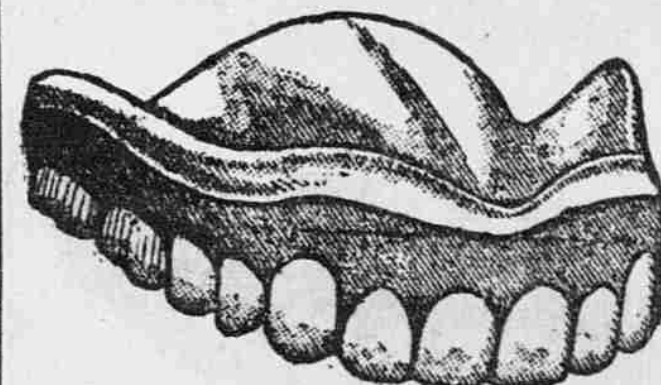

The affidavit by Peters then alleges: "That thereafter, at the hour of 10:30 o'clock p. m., or thereabouts, while your affiant was in the said Judiciary building and in the corridor leading from the library therein, your affiant met and greeted Fred West, Esq., a member of said jury, he, the said Fred West, being then leaning against the railing of said corridor in company with others to your affiant unknown; and the said Fred West then and there did invite your affiant to have a drink, and he moved and walked toward said rooms so set apart for said jury as aforesaid, but upon the refusal of your affiant to so partake of drink with him, the said Fred West, he, the said Fred West, returned to the said railing, and your affiant left him there; that your affiant verily believes and so deposes it to be the fact that the said Fred West referred to whisky or beer or some other intoxicating liquor, and is informed and verily believes and so deposes it to be the fact that there was at said time beer and whisky in said rooms so set apart for said jury for the use of said jury, and that the same was used by the said jury; that your affiant did thereafter, and in company with E. C. Peters, Esq., proceed down the corridor in said Judiciary building toward the clerk's office therein, and after turning midway in said corridor did return on the opposite side thereof and go to and enter the chambers of the Hon. George D. Gear, Second Judge of the First Circuit Court, when and where your affiant did see beer in bottles and in glasses upon the table in said chambers, and did see then and there seated Mr. Thomas Lucas, Mr. George Paris and Mr. F. E. Richardson, they and each of them being members of said jury as aforesaid, and your affiant and E. C. Peters saw then and there seated Mr. Thomas Lucas, Mr. George Paris and Mr. F. E. Richardson, they and each of them being members of said jury as aforesaid, and your affiant and C. F. Reynolds, Esq., were then and there by the said jurors and each of them invited to partake of beer in the hand of said Thomas Lucas and an open bottle of beer in the lap of said Thomas Lucas, and your affiant and the said C. F. Reynolds were then and there invited by said Thomas Lucas to have a glass of beer, and upon the refusal of your affiant and said C. F. Reynolds to partake of the same, your affiant and C. F. Reynolds were then and there and each of them invited by the said Thomas Lucas to have a glass of whisky, and your affiant and said

C. F. Reynolds then and there refused to partake of the same.

"That thereafter, to wit, on the 5th day of September, 1902, your affiant entered the chambers formerly occupied by Hon. A. S. Humphreys, and therein found a partially used bottle of whisky, with a small amount remaining therein, and your affiant verily believes that said bottle of whisky was the unused remainder of liquor given to said jurors the night previous, to wit, the night of September 4th, 1902.

"That your affiant verily believes and so deposes that the consumption of the said intoxicating liquors on the said night of the 4th day of September, 1902, as aforesaid by the said jurors as aforesaid, unfitted the said jurors for the proper discharge of their duties, and that they had no just sense of the responsibility of their station as jurors in said cause, and your affiant verily believes and so deposes it to be the fact that during the deliberation by the said jury of their verdict in said cause, they the said jury and each of them were affected by the consumption of said intoxicating liquors as aforesaid as to their impartiality and justice, and were not in a fit and proper condition to fairly and impartially consider the evidence adduced, and that the rendition of the said verdict by the said jury was affected by the consumption of said liquors as aforesaid; that the said act of said jury as aforesaid was improper and indiscreet, and affected the impartiality, justice and fairness of each and all of them and disqualified them and each of them from exercising their judgment and fairness, and that the rendition of said verdict, to wit, the verdict of murder in the first degree, was so rendered by minds so influenced by the consumption of intoxicating liquors as aforesaid."
